

Amendments and Changes to VOMA Training Institute and Conference Brochure

Early Registration Deadline extended until October 24, 2003

Training F: Amended description

Understanding Victimization

The key objectives of this training are for participants to gain a better understanding of victimization, to hear from a victim about his experience and how it feels to be a victim of crime and to learn about 2 Wisconsin programs which work closely with victims to address accountability among juvenile and adult offenders.

Training J: Amended title and description

Dimensions of an Effective Restorative Justice Response to Domestic Violence -

Through a combination of lecture, small group work, and discussions, participants will consider a restorative approach to mediating domestic violence cases. Participants will gain an understanding of the realities for domestic violence victims and offenders, they will understand some of the cultural and political factors that influence abuse and will weigh the considerable demands of responsible domestic violence works with the strengths and weaknesses of Restorative Justice. Please note this training is two days.

Training R: A Framework for Assessment has moved to Day 2 - Mon 1:45 to Tues Noon

Training M: Amended title on schedule - International Restorative Justice Practices

Training M: International Restorative Justice Practices has moved to Day 3 - Tues 1:45 to Wed Noon

Dialogue sessions timing change

Please note that all Dialogue sessions (Training H, Training I, Training N, Training O, Training T & Training U) are now amended to one and a half hours in length. All start times remain the same.